

There are many points in life when we can not see what awaits around a corner and it is precisely at such times, when our path is unclear that we are most in need of a guide.

nc ear